B. D. BALTHIS WRITES OF HIS SOLDIER'S VISIT TO CO-LOGNE AND BONN

Picturesque description of Germany as it is under American occupation is afforded in a letter, received yesterday, from B. Douglas Balthis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Balthis of this city, to Pierson Haning. The former is stationed with Co. F, 117th Engineers of the Forty-second Division, at Mayschoss. He writes:

"Among my good resolutions for the New Year was that I should make an effort to catch up with my correspondence and as you see I am keeping one resolution anyway.

"Conditions are somewhat different now than they were when I wrote my last letter as we are living in palaces now compared with the fox-holes we had last fall. We are here in the village of Mayschoss and only about four or five miles from the Rhine. Six of us are living here in an old German lady's house and while it would hardly come up to the standard of a Glendale residence we find it pretty comfortable. We sleep on the dining room floor and although it is not an exceptionally springy floor it is far better than we had last winter. The old lady of the house is very congenial and every night gives us a big dish of boiled potatoes and sauer-kraut. While that may not sound so appetizing to you it sure tastes good to us, for after eighteen months of army cooking anything you get tastes good. I fail to see that Germany is so short of food for these people here certainly have sufficient and are much better off than the Belgians. All of these little villages are self-supporting and it is very seldom that any of the inhabitants even visit the adjacent towns. The old lady in this house was born here and she has never even been to Cologne which is only a distance of 50 kilometers.

"We certainly can't complain about the treatment we have received from the Germans so far, but it is because they realize that it is the only course left open to them. We keep a pretty close watch on them and they are pretty well-behaved and orderly.

"We are in a very pretty part of the country now and in peace times this was a famous resort region. There are at least one or two large (Continued on Page 4)

BOOK SYMPOSIUM AT LIBRARY

The book symposium at the city library Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock was quite a success in spite of the fact that it was strictly informal. A goodly number of library patrons were present to get lists of the additions to the shelves and some inkling of their character. The chance to ask questions freely seemed to be much appreciated and more than one expressed surprise at the fact that there are so many new books because they appear never to be in.

At the next symposium, which will take place next Monday afternoon, little bulletins of the new books will be given out and also a request blank on which the patron can fill in the names of books desired for the library.

The list of works considered Monday non-fiction as well as stories.

FLOOD PROTECTION

FORESTRY DEPT. PLANTS 300
EUCALYPTI TO REINFORCE
WATER BARRIERS

The Forestry Department has just completed the planting of about 300 eucalyptus of the Blue Gum variety at the bend in the wash just north of Ross' Packing House. They have been planted parallel with the protection work built a couple of years ago and the street department and Judge Ross have hauled in and placed a lot of tree trimmings, from the street trees of Glendale and from the Judge's orchard and placed them back of the protection work to make a good substantial barrier against flood waters. These trees have been planted back of this and still further protective work is to be built by the county, probably this summer, which will be three lines of protection. As the situation is now there is quite substantial protection against overflow.

The entire channel has been cleared of underbrush and as much provision as possible has been made to prevent the blocking of the channel and accumulation of water.

The tree trimming of the city has been practically completed, all the larger trees of the city having been gone over.

RETURNED SOLDIER IS AFTER GLENDALE JOB

Leo Elisha Light, who for some time was at Monterey with the 301st Cavalry, but was transferred to San Diego in November, was discharged from service about a month ago. He is now looking for employment. Before he entered the army he was employed at the P. E. station in this city.

WILL CALL IT A YEAR

STUDENTS WHO DO WORK OF ABBRIDGED CURRICULUM WILL BE GIVEN CREDITS

Prof. George U. Moyse, Principal of Glendale Union High School, states that educators from grade schools to universities have agreed to make the best of conditions, and cover the work in general to the best of their ability, calling their accomplishments a year's work when the second half-year ends in the early summer. The difficult situation brought about by the influenza epidemic has necessarily upset all calculations. Nevertheless the students who have conscientiously performed the work laid out for them will be promoted.

At the present time teachers and principals are checking over the work of students to determine what credit shall be given each student in each subject. If he has done his work regularly, he will be permitted to go ahead. If he has done only a part of it they will make the best adjustment possible and encourage him to make up the deficiency. If he has not done any of the work, he will have to drop that study and make up the work at some later period. Realizing their responsibilities, the seniors without exception have worked. The delinquents are all in the lower grades, the undergraduates. Sixteen credits are required for graduation and some of the students have as high as seventeen and eighteen credits, so there is no uncertainty about their graduation.

While no program has been worked out for the mid-year commencement, it is definitely decided, as has been announced, that the class day and class play will be combined in one evening.

GLENDALE MAN DOES RECORD INSURANCE BUSINESS IN ARIZONA

Mr. Charles P. Brice, general agent for the State of Arizona, representing the West Coast Life Insurance Co. of San Francisco, is enjoying a visit with his family at 306 North Kenwood street. He has just returned from San Francisco where he attended a banquet given to the entire corps of salesmen.

Mr. Brice was accorded the distinguished honor of being made president of this salesmen's association for the reason that among the live wires employed by his company, he led them all in the amount of business in 1918, his total reaching more than $400,000.

This is a record well worth having and Mr. Brice's Glendale friends will be more than glad to hear of his signal success in the Hassayampa state. He makes his personal home and headquarters in Phoenix, Arizona, the state capital.

REPORTER-SOLDIER VISITS HERE

Henry F. Burris, recently returned from the American Expeditionary Forces in France, is visiting here with his friend, Marshall Pearson, of 722 E. Lomita avenue. The Pearson family were former residents of Imperial Valley and still are interested in the vegetable marketing business there. Mr. Burris, known throughout the valley as "Hank" Burris, was the live wire reporter on The Brawley Daily News staff. Being a young man with a versatile ability to rattle a typewriter, he could prepare verbal floral tributes for everything from a wedding to a funeral. In the Imperial Valley, too, there is always something exciting to report, and Burris was in on the ground floor. That's the reason he went to war.

EPIDEMIC OF HICCUGHS

Numerous cases of hiccoughs, more or less of minor nature, are being reported in Glendale. It is understood that a hiccough plague is prevalent and that the only way to stop these convulsions is to drink something which will contract the throat. L. A. Hart and Lehman Crandall are reported as having been afflicted with hiccoughs for a period covering 24 hours.

LENINE GOVERNMENT WANTS PEACE

IS WILLING TO MAKE CONCESSIONS OR WAR TO GET IT
AND TO PAY OLD RUSSIAN DEBT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

New York, Feb. 4.—The New York World today publishes a copyrighted interview with Premier Lenine, cabled from Berlin, declaring that the Russian soviet government wants peace and is willing to make concessions to get it, but that if the Allies insist on war, the Russians are ready to fight to a finish.

Lenine said the soviet even would be inclined to pay the old Russian debt.

When asked regarding Russian eligibility to membership in the league of nations, Lenine replied: "They are not forming a league of nations, but a league of imperialists to strangle nations."

He says he believes Wilson is "a shrewd man." When asked when he believes the revolution will reach the United States, Lenine replied that he wondered "how long Samuel Gompers can hold the labor unions as subject to imperialism as he is himself."

The interview was given to Robert Minor, an American newspaper man, and was cabled from Berlin to the New York World.

NEW EFFORT TO OVERTHROW GOVERNMENT

WILL TAKE PLACE THURSDAY, THE DAY SET FOR OPEN-ING OF NATIONAL ASSEMBLY AT WEIMAR

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Zurich, Switzerland, Feb. 4.—The Berlin Vorwaerts today declares that the Spartacides will make a new attempt to overthrow the government on Thursday. The paper said that Spartacus leaders have gone to various radical centers to bring back men to reinforce the radicals in Berlin. The paper added that the government has knowledge of the plan and has greatly increased the guard around the various public buildings.

It is reported that Deputy Hoffman, the German radical leader, and Karl Rodek, Russian Bolshevik agitator, will lead the revolt. The plan has been laid to coincide with the opening of the national assembly at Weimar.

PUTS RESPONSIBILITY ON U. S.

ESTABLISHMENT AND MAINTENANCE OF LEAGUE OF NA-TIONS SAID TO BE CHIEF DUTY OF U. S. TO THE WORLD

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Paris, Feb. 4.—General Frederick Maurice, former British director of operations and expert on military and international affairs, today told the United Press that while the United States has more to lose than to gain through the forming of a league of nations, it is the duty of America to the world to urge the league, and that the success or failure of the league will depend almost entirely on the United States.

Maurice declared that the United States must furnish financial support for the reconstruction of stricken countries and that a great American navy will be essential to the maintenance of the league's most powerful weapon, that of economic preeminence.

Maurice said he is confident that the league will be organized successfully and that every day it becomes more evident that the plan is practical.

He declares it will be impossible to get sufficient indemnities from Germany to pay for the restoration of the stricken countries, and that the United States must respond with help.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS TAKING FORM

CONSTITUTION NEARLY READY AND AGREEMENT ON DE-CREASE OF ARMAMENT HAS BEEN REACHED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Paris, Feb. 4.—The expectation today was that the league of nations' constitution would be completed before tonight. An agreement already has been reached on the reduction of armament, it was learned authoritatively. The plan may either mean that the United States must decrease or increase its naval program.

POLAND-CZECHO-SLOVAK DISPUTE SETTLED

ADJUSTED ACCORDING TO PRINCIPLES WHICH WILL BE INCORPORATED IN LEAGUE OF NATIONS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Paris, Feb. 4.—An official communique from the peace conference today announced that a settlement of the conflict between the Poles and the Czecho-Slovaks over disputed territory has been effected, according to principles which will be incorporated in the league of nations.

COMMITTEE TO CONSIDER GREECE'S CLAIMS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Paris, Feb. 4.—Greece's territorial and political claims will be referred to a special committee of the peace conference, representing the United States, England, France and Italy, it was officially announced today.

FOOTBALL GAME HERE FRIDAY A POSSIBILITY

The Glendale High football eleven is scheduled for a game next Friday, but it is not a positive engagement. Many of the schools have entirely dropped their schedules on account of the interruptions, but Azusa and South Pasadena are still open. If the contest comes off it will be played here.

TO RESTORE SCHOOLS

MARSHAL STIMSON PLEADS FOR
RESCUE FROM EXPLOITATION
AND DOMINATION

From several points of view the meeting of the High School Parent-Teacher Association conducted by the president, Mrs. J. I. Wernette, and held in the High School auditorium Monday evening, was a success. No time was wasted in the transaction of petty items of business in which the audience was not interested and the program was excellent. It opened with vocal numbers contributed by two residents of Glendale, viz.: Mrs. Charles Parker, who sang beautifully "At Dawning" and "A Lullaby," and then responded to an encore with the little skit, "I Do Know." Francis Henry contributed Scotch songs which delighted the audience, beginning with "Loch Lomond," and ending with a rollicking Scotch music-hall ballad both of which were splendidly interpreted.

When Marshal Stimson, the orator of the evening, was introduced and mentioned his subject, "Reconstruction Problems in Education," he said:

"The standpoint from which I shall approach the subject will not be the standpoint of an educator but that of a plain citizen in the same position as you who are members of the Parent-Teacher Association and deeply interested in the problems of education as they affect the children in the public schools of California. I have gone practically through the entire course myself. I have four children in the public schools in Los Angeles, and there is no subject in which I take a greater interest.

"As I view it, the problem of reconstruction does not deal so much with the education of the child as with the problems which confront us in the conduct of our schools. First and foremost we must get the child back under the jurisdiction of the (Continued on Page 4)

ELKS' CLUB MEETING

About 150 members came out to enjoy the special celebration provided for Past Exalted Rulers' Night at the Elks' Club House Monday evening. All Past Rulers of the lodge were present except Herman West who died several years ago and Past Exalted Ruler Lawson, who was unable to attend.

An excellent miscellaneous vaudeville program was put on by Los Angeles talent provided by the committee on entertainment, and a fine repast was served at its close. A good many soldier and sailor members who have been released from service, were there, and it is rumored that they will be guests of honor at some meeting to be appointed in the near future.

HUNTER CHARGES RANCHER OF ASSAULT WITH DEADLY WEAPON

R. Tochke, a prominent vineyardist residing in the vicinity of La Crescenta, appeared before Justice of the Peace Harry L. Miller this Tuesday morning for preliminary investigation of a charge in which it is alleged he assaulted J. Wilson Harward, a Los Angeles hunter, with a deadly weapon. January 19th is given as the date of the occurrence in the complaint.

On account of the absence of witnesses, the examination was continued until Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. Deputy District Attorney Van Cott is the prosecuting attorney while Attorney Albert D. Pearce is representing Mr. Tochke.

According to stories told, it seems that Mr. and Mrs. Harward were hunting in the vicinity of the Tochke ranch and were ordered off by the defendant. It was after this incident that the alleged assault is supposed to have taken place.

Mr. Tochke, who is well-known in this vicinity, told an Evening News representative, when interviewed today, that the hunting party was trespassing on his property and that when he ordered them off, they proceeded to take their time about it and because he was fearful of damage to his grape vines, he fired two shots in the air.

HOB NOBS WITH GREAT

ALTON M. BROOKS RECEIVES
DISTINGUISHED COURTESIES
IN ITALY AS AMERICAN

In a recent letter from Prof. Alton Brooks, he writes that he is still in the Y. M. C. A. work in Italy, being director of education in and about Milan. He says:

"The Italian people are the most appreciative of any I have met. They never tire of lauding us Americans for what assistance we have given them. They repeatedly tell me that President Wilson is the greatest man in the world and they are looking forward with great interest to his arrival in their country. You see his picture everywhere. My acquaintance with the Italians has been very pleasant. We have no idea of Italians from those we have seen in America.

"A few evenings ago the oldest and most distinguished club in Milan, The Giardino, gave an entertainment and reception in honor of the Allies. They were well represented by their officers. The 'Y' men were there also. Many noted artists were on the program, among them two nieces of Paganini. The members of this club are the 'elite' of the city and you may imagine my surprise when I was presented with an honorary membership, the only person present receiving such distinction. I take my meals at the officers' club. My table companions are General Marini, Colonels Luparini Orsi and (Continued on Page 4)

BROADWAY IMPROVEMENT

George R. Curtis, who is to do the work of improving Broadway east from Glendale avenue, signed the contract Saturday and started the work Monday. If the weather permits it will be pushed rapidly. He has four months in which to complete the job, but it is his intention to finish it as soon as possible.

ANOTHER PICTURE MAKING

The Vert Mont, a rooming house now operated by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Easton, furnished the setting for a scene staged early in the afternoon by an unit of the Metro Film Company, which is playing in the story, "That's It," which is featuring Hale Hamilton. Of course, we have known since Shakespeare's time that "all the world's a stage," but Glendale seems to be a favorite part of it.

MRS. GERTRUDE FOLLANSBEE ENTERTAINS

Mrs. Gertrude Follansbee, assisted by her mother, Mrs. M. A. Wright, entertained with a family dinner party Sunday. The pink and white carnations with which the table was centered, harmonized with the other appointments of the board. The guest list included Mrs. Kimball and son Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Sergel and daughter Jean and Mr. and Mrs. Bradley from San Diego.

Mrs. Follansbee and her mother also entertained in honor of guests from River Falls, Wisconsin, who are spending the winter in California, former residents of that city who are now residing in Pasadena, Los Angeles and Glendale being invited to meet them at an afternoon tea last week. Violets and hyacinths were used in decoration and an exceedingly pleasant entertainment was furnished for about fourteen guests.

XMASTIDE IN FRANCE

ANOTHER SOLDIER LETTER TELLS OF GOOD CHEER IN CAMP AND HOSPITAL

The Evening News is indebted to Mrs. Vandervoort of 113 South Jackson street for the following letter written by her brother who is a chaplain in the United States army overseas:

"Limoges, France,
"Dec. 28, 1918.

"Base Hosp. 13, U. S. A. P. O. 753.

"Dear Folks:—

"Christmas in France! Who would have dared to predict that I, the youngest of the Ware tribe would be the one of all the family to see a foreign country and above all to spend a Christmas in France? Here I am and I shall never forget the wonderful evidence of good will which was manifested by our men in khaki. Our hospital had on its roll some 1500 patients, 100 nurses, 250 corps men and 34 officers, not a small city at that. Aside from what the folks at home would do for the happiness of the men in their gifts which would come by mail the Red Cross and the Colonel of the hospital combined to (Continued on Page 4)

THOSE WHO HAVE TRAVELED AND SEEN

Already the homeward trek has started of those Glendale young men who went off to war—those who have traveled and seen—and know the work of the Hun. Some of the boys were privileged only to the extent of getting into the army and staying over here; others were able to get "over there," but were always behind the lines; still others got into action on the fighting front and met the enemy in mortal combat; and then there are those who are with the victorious Army of Occupation along the Rhine.

All of them have traveled and seen, however, and while those who are already back can personally recount to Glendaleans their martial experiences, some most interesting letters are now being published in The Evening News from those unfortunate who cannot return to home-land shores until the big job of bringing peace to earth is complete. Yet they are fortunate, in that they are seeing sights far beyond the reach of our yearnings, due to limited purse or the scythe of Father Time. To read their letters is to travel and see with them.

THE AUTOMOBILE AND THE LAW

Accidents are ever-present possibilities which the motorist must constantly strive to avoid. When they happen, the law imposes certain duties on those involved.

If you should be so unfortunate as to have an accident, remember to do the following things: (1) Render first aid if necessary to any one injured in the accident. The law also requires you to take any such person to a physician or surgeon for medical or surgical treatment, if such treatment is required or requested. (2) Take the state license number of any car involved in the accident other than your own. Also take the name and address of any person injured or the occupants of any machine involved in the accident. You should likewise give your name and address, the names and addresses of the occupants of your car, and the license number of your car to any person involved in the accident who requests such information. The California vehicle act is very strict in its requirements along these lines and punishes a failure to render assistance or to give information after an accident very severely.

Do not be content, however, with doing just what the law requires. Do everything you can to make the injured person comfortable and do not stop with taking him to a physician or a hospital. If possible, take him home after such treatment, and do everything that courtesy could require. Be sure that you have the names and addresses of all of the parties to the accident and of as many witnesses as possible. Don't discuss the accident at the time, unless the other party to the accident, if it is a collision, admits his liability to you, or unless you wish to admit your liability to him. If someone has been injured in the accident, whether you consider yourself responsible for their injury or not, make it a point to call on them in a few days, either in person or by a representative, in order that you may show an interest in their recovery. If you are insured against accidents, advise your insurance company of the accident as promptly as possible after its occurrence, and leave further steps to them. If you are a member of the Automobile Club of Southern California, consult its nearest representative.

Never neglect an accident if you have one. See to it that an adjustment is made or that the matter is otherwise disposed of as promptly as possible. A claim in your favor rarely ever grows better with age, and a very slight injury involving a claim against you may readily grow into a big judgment. DAVID R. FARRIES, General Counsel, Automobile Club of Southern California.

MORE POLITICAL TINKERING

Now that certain different boards, bureaus, commissions and officials figure that they have the railroads, telephone and telegraph, express, shipping and other industries well on the way toward final government ownership, they are turning their hand to insurance and an enlargement of the present soldiers' insurance system.

One bureau is already proposing to take certain lines of insurance out of private hands and make a monopoly of these branches in the hands of the Farm Loan Board.

The theory is that the Farm Loan Board could add the "simple" proposition of insurance on all farm properties seeking government loans, without any expense. Since when have government officials worked for nothing? Naturally taxes, licenses, etc., would be done away with which the private companies now pay to support the government, but somebody else would have to dig it up.

The Department of Labor recommends "community insurance" to "supersede profit-seeking competitive insurance." Of course any politician can run the insurance business, for the people can always be taxed to make up losses.

The fact that the railroad administration raised railroad rates twice as much as the private companies ever asked to do, in addition to cutting service, seems to have no bearing on insurance. Oh, no! The men in charge of insurance would be smarter than the railroad officials.

Contrasted with the greatly increased railroad rates, the insurance industry has been able to pull through the war emergency with only a 10 per cent temporary surcharge.

With the evidence we have to go by, it's a poor time to further kill private industry with political tinkering—The Manufacturer.

INDUSTRIES MUST CARE FOR SOLDIERS

Hundreds of thousands of soldiers and sailors returning to their homes after the war will find places they left occupied and jobs scarce. Families and relatives should make plans to make places for the home-coming men and women who have worn Uncle Sam's uniform.

Private co-operation and state and nation must do their utmost to care for discharged forces if we would not swell the ranks of dis-

INTERESTING W. C. T. U. MEET

The large company of White Ribboners and friends who met at the home of Mrs. L. L. Brown, 213 North Louise Street, Friday afternoon last, were richly repaid for braving the slight showers, in the enjoyment of the fine address given by a sister worker from across our northern border, Mrs. George Gordon, vice president of the W. C. T. U. of Canada.

Mrs. Gordon is a clear, forceful and very interesting speaker and held the interested attention of everyone. She paid high tribute to the W. C. T. U. organization, in which she has been a prominent worker for many years, placing it in higher rank for women than any other of clubs or church societies in its capacity for broadening and educating women.

She vividly portrayed in part the great conference in the interest of world prohibition held in Columbus, Ohio, in November last, to which she was a delegate from Canada. There were representatives from every State in the Union and from several foreign fields, viz: England, Scotland, Italy, Japan, Mexico, China and others. Eight hundred men, with but few women, made up the delegation, which was not the usual way in reform movements. These men in eloquent speeches portrayed the sad conditions of their countries and pleaded for help to aid in ridding their natives from the great home-destroyer, the heartless liquor traffic. Said they did not ask for money, but for ideas; "for men and women to go and tell them how to do it."

In a keynote speech the speaker said: "Nothing is clearer than that now is the psychological time to strike for world prohibition. The remarkable success in America has encouraged the temperance forces of the world and has weakened the defenses of the liquor traffic."

Wayne B. Wheeler of Washington, D. C., told of the present liquor laws in foreign lands, revealing the fact that wine and beer are not considered in the same class as distilled and other strong liquors. Said we must not let down our standard, but maintain it, and our allies and other countries will adopt it in due time.

Miss Jennie V. Hughes, principal of the Knowles Training School, Kin-Kiang, China, told graphically of the great need of temperance work in China. She told most dramatically of the way the liquor dealers and brewers are pouring in their money and exploiting China, and said: "Unless America comes to the rescue, China will be a drunken nation."

The convention decided to send workers to England, Scotland and Mexico.

On account of the rain, the colored singer was not present, but will favor us in the near future.

The next regular meeting will be held February 7 with Mrs. George Rowe, 216 South Orange Street.

"ARE YOU OVER 60?"

If so, there is a good time in store for you.

The Tropico M. E. Junior League is planning to entertain all the old people in Tropico over 60 years of age, on Friday, February 14th, at 7:30, in the Social Hall. If you are unable to walk, phone Glendale 1562-W, before that date, when arrangements will be made to bring you by auto.

Come and have a good time and tell others.

CLUB MEETINGS REVIVE

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Brown of 416 North Kenwood will entertain next Saturday evening the dancing and card club to which they belong and which is being revived after a period of inactivity. On this occasion Five Hundred will furnish the diversion. The guest list will include: Mr. and Mrs. McClintock of Burbank, Messrs. and Mesdames Warren Roberts, F. J. Kuntzner, V. M. Hollister, W. A. Tanner, E. R. Naudain, Arthur Cross, H. H. Martin and Edw. Lynch.

"BUGGY MARY"

"Buggy Mary," the children at the Salvation Army Boys' and Girls' Industrial Home at Lytton Springs, call her.

She is only 12 years old and when fate landed her at the Home, she took a delight in searching for bugs. She studied their habits, cared for them and often was seen down on her knees in the dirt intently watching them. So the children called her "Buggy Mary."

The army people wondered what they could do with her when the State sent an agricultural teacher from the State Farm at Davis to the Home to instruct the children. He immediately saw possibilities in Mary.

She was an ardent student and soon had charge of the apiary. Today this 12-year-old girl is an authority on bees and the children declare that the only person at Lytton that the bees respect is Mary—this they know from experience and when they say "Buggy Mary," they speak affectionately and not disrespectfully.

content. A public sentiment must be aroused to see that they are given at least as good a place in the social structure as they left.

Sound industrial conditions and a good business basis will do more to make this possible than anything else.

STATE NEWS

MARYSVILLE, Cal.—W. W. Douglas, forest ranger for this section, announces that deer are as plentiful in the Feather river canyon as sheep. Last season being an open one and few deer perished on account of the cold is the reason attributed by Douglas for the large number. Hundreds of the animals have been seen in the neighborhood of towns in the canyon. Around Corning, California, the tractor has almost displaced the horse for farm work, as well as other gasoline wagons displacing him for pleasure craft.

SALINAS, Cal.—Because he is charged with being actively pro-German during the war and that his saloon was a resort for enemy aliens, Otto Kusserow has been refused a new license by the Salinas city council. Kusserow denies the charges.

JUNEAU, Alaska.—The American Red Cross has awarded a "special chevron" to Miss Margaret Nunvialli for her splendid work as a nurse in St. Stephen's Hospital at Fort Yukon, Alaska, which is said to be the most northerly station in North America. The hospital is 10 miles inside the Arctic Circle and is the only place in 50,000 square miles that affords medical help. The nearest doctor is 350 miles away.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Fifty-three "draftees" will be demobilized at Camp Fremont today. Now that the 53 war pigeons have "done their bit" and the war is over, they will all go on the auction block today. They are to be sold to persons interested in racing and homing pigeons. The pigeons were "drafted" from the coast's best stock.

has been called home by the serious illness of his mother.

Miss Melicent Virden of Mira Loma avenue was a dinner guest Friday evening of Mrs. Pascal Henry Burke of Ocean View and Los Angeles.

Ben Bolen of 369 Myrtle avenue,
who is in the employ of the Moline Plow Works, Los Angeles, has gone to Arizona on a three weeks' trip for his firm.

Miss Elizabeth Lorbeer, of the High School, was absent Monday, having been called away by the sudden death from heart failure of an aunt residing in Pomona.

Mrs. Danford, City Librarian, will be a speaker at the meeting of the Doran Street P.-T. A. Wednesday afternoon, when she will talk to the mothers about children's books.

The long-deferred dance and card
party planned by the Glen Eyrle Chapter of the Eastern Star has been set for Washington's Birthday, February 22d, at Masonic Temple.

The many friends of R. M. Jackson, of Orange street, will be glad to learn that he is more comfortable,
and is making slow improvement, although he is still confined to his bed
most of the time.

One week from Thursday night, or February 13th, Dr. E. H. Willisford will make a brief address at the Community Sing in the High School Auditorium, in which he will talk of his war experience.

An all-day meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Central Christian Church will be held at the church Wednesday, beginning at 10 o'clock. Ladies will bring lunches which will be served at noon.

Edwin Stubbs of Highland Park has leased the property at 605 Eighth street through the J. F. Chandler Agency and will make his home here for the coming year at least. His sister, Mrs. Broyhill, will reside with him.

Members of the Glendale Development Association will assemble this evening at the Victor Hotel at 7:30 for a brief session, after which they will adjourn that those who wish may attend the meeting at the Methodist Church to be addressed by Captain Richmond P. Hobson.

Lorenzo Reifenberick, a former resident of the Tropic district who left college to enter the army service, but who was kept in Washington most of time in which he was in the army, returned Monday morning
and is now with his parents at Compton. His grandmother resides at Hotel Tropic in this city.

A. T. Cowan, who has been the subject of much inquiry from his many friends, is making a very satisfactory recovery from influenza and has been assured by his physician that he can sit up tomorrow. His sister, Miss Elizabeth Cowan, was confined to her bed by illness the first three days of the week, but is now recovering.

The friends of Dr. Archer will be glad to learn that specialists whom he has recently consulted give encouraging reports of his condition.
His sister, Mrs. Warren Roberts, states that her parents have gone to Banning and purchased a ranch of a few acres to which the doctor has been moved and they hope in the pleasant home environment they will be able to provide for him, that his hopes will be fully realized and his recovery assured.

SGT. FRED FARNER FINDS HOME FIRES BURNING

Sergeant Fred N. Farner, of Glendale avenue, who got back from overseas about a week ago, found his old job awaiting him. He had been in the employ of the Kissel Kar Co.
in Los Angeles and when he was expected the company sent word to his parents that they were holding the position for him. He is, therefore, going right on as if nothing had happened except for the "amazing interlude" which, like the rest of the boys
he says he would not have missed for a great deal but which he has no desire to go through again. He was on his way to the front when hostilities ceased.

SOLDIER RETURNS TO MOVIES

Frederick Forster, of this city, who entered the army and was sent to do
military patrol duty in Vancouver, returned a few weeks ago, purchased some horses, and is back at his old work in the movies. He and his mother, who have been living at Hotel Tropic, are moving across the line
into Los Angeles.

SACRAMENTO, Cal. — Establishment of the boundary between Riverside and San Bernardino counties will be asked in a bill to be brought up in the next session by Assemblymen Knight of Redlands, and Kline, of San Jacinto.

FULL DRESS AFFAIR

ANNUAL INSPECTION OF COM- MANDERIES BY GRAND OF- FICERS OF CALIFORNIA

It was one of the big events of the year for the Glendale Commandery, Knights Templar, when the annual inspection by officers of the Grand Commandery of the State of the Pasadena, Alhambra and Glendale Commanderies took place at Masonic Temple Monday evening in this city.
It was also a full dress affair and of intense interest to members who packed the hall.

That it might have a fitting setting, members of Glen Eyrle Chapter of the Eastern Star with the assistance of Florists Jackson and Kelley, converted the lodge hall into a fragrant bower of flowers and greenery.
Never before, say critical judges, did it present a more beautiful appearance.

Making up the inspecting body
were: Right Eminent Sir J. M.
Peel, Grand Commander of the State
whose home is in San Francisco; Eminent Sir Charles Malcolm, Department Commander of Department
Five; Eminent Sir J. G. Scarborough, Inspector, and Past Commander of No. 43 of Los Angeles; Eminent Sir A. R. Park, of Long Beach;
Eminent Sir Charles L. Peckham, Past Commander of Glendale Commandery.

The work was put on in full form.
The reception to the Grand Officers was given by the Pasadena Commandery, Reception to the Colors by the Alhambra Commandery, and the Temple Degree work by the Glendale Commandery, Howard William Walker being the candidate. The work was very impressive and performed under exceptional surroundings, for,
in addition to the Grand Officers, a number of knights were present from Long Beach Commandery, headed by Sir A. R. Park.

Last year the local Commandery
and Alhambra Commandery were entertained at Pasadena. Next year the Alhambra Lodge will be the host.

TRUE PATRIOTS

Though there has never been any question about the patriotism of the truly American boy as an individual or a group, every once in a while there is an unique exhibition of the fervor of his sentiments. Such a demonstration was afforded when a group of Glendale youngsters between eight and twelve years of age,
whose imaginations had been fired
by tales of trench life and of going
"over the top" started to visualize
them by digging trenches and staging a battle. For a week they worked upon their excavations until they had the setting as nearly perfect as they could make it. Then they summoned all the boys of the neighborhood to be organized into the contending armies, but there was where they fell down for no boy was willing to personate a Hun. Patriotism smothered dramatic zeal and now
two yawning cavities serve as reminders of a fine enterprise "gone glittering down the path of things that were, an idle dream, the wonder of an hour."

USE KAISER'S STABLES

A New Year's letter from Will Richardson describes life with the army of occupation at Coblenz. He says: "Today I was out riding on patrol, up the river five miles, then cut through the hills to a small town where we had dinner, then back in the afternoon, getting to the stables about 3 o'clock. The stables, I might say, are where the kaiser kept 500 horses for himself near one of his palaces. Presume he had many palaces, but the one here is certainly fine, overlooking the Rhine River.

"I spend about six hours a day in the saddle and get to see quite a bit of the country around here while on duty. Nowadays my mail is three months old and I receive very little.
The weather is cold here, but not so cold as in the states.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH ACTIVITIES

This afternoon members of the Queen Esther Circle meet at the home of Ida Brooks on North Jackson street.

The big mass meeting to be addressed by Captain Richmond P.
Hobson than whom no man in the navy has achieved more fame, comes off tonight at the First Methodist Church. Glendale doesn't often have a chance to welcome orators of national renown and she should show that she appreciates the opportunity and knows how to treat such visitors
by bringing the whole community
family out to hear him.

A fine program has been prepared for the Centenary meeting at the First Methodist Church Wednesday
evening, which will be an union meeting of all the Methodist Churches of Glendale. There will be stereopticon views and several stirring addresses.

The regular monthly meetings of the three women's societies of the First Methodist Church, the Ladies' Aid, Woman's Home Missionary Society and Foreign Missionary Societies, will be held Thursday in the church parlors.

WEATHER FORECAST: Fair tonight and Wednesday. Light to heavy frost.

MR. AND MRS. GILMAN ENTERTAIN

Miss Olga Johnson of Los Angeles
was entertained at dinner last Wednesday evening at the home of Mr.
and Mrs. F. E. Gilman, of Glendale.
The occasion was in honor of her departure for Nevada.

Miss Johnson was head stenographer for the book department of Cunningham, Curtis & Welch, wholesale stationers and booksellers of Los Angeles, of which department Mr. Gilman is manager, until she resigned a week ago to accept a position
equally responsible with the Salt Lake Railroad in Nevada. Her personal charm and keen executive ability have endeared her to all whose privilege it has been to know her and she will be greatly missed from the circle in which she moved.

Besides being a very brilliant business young lady, she is also a talented musician, both vocal and instrumental, and she in turn entertained her host and hostess with several splendid selections.

Miss Johnson left last Sunday morning for her new field of labor.
It was at the urgent solicitation of her elder brother, who is also with the railroad, that she finally decided to resign her lucrative position to be with him. She is a sister among five brothers and consequently quite a favorite. Three of the brothers have recently been mustered out of their country's service.

SUNDAY LAWS

By FRANK A. COFFIN,
Glendale, Cal.

A Sunday Blue Law is pending in the Legislature which threatens the entire State of California, in spite of the fact that the people defeated almost identically the same bill at the polls in 1914 by a majority of 167,- 221. The measure now pending was introduced simultaneously in the Senate by Senator Dennett of Modesto, and in the Assembly by Assemblyman Brooks of Oakland, on Wednesday, January 15th. It is known as Senate Bill Number 77 and Assembly Bill Number 142. This is the same old Sunday law which, although defeated at the polls in 1914, bobbed up again in 1917, and narrowly escaped passage in the Assembly. It is very similar to the Sunday closing ordinance defeated by the voters of Los Angeles last November
by a two to one vote.

This drastic blue law makes a criminal of any person, firm, association or corporation in California, or any officer or employee of the State, who keeps "open on Sunday for the purpose of transacting any business or labor, any store, office, shop building or place of business where goods, wares, merchandise or property is sold or offered for sale, or to sell or offer for sale any goods, wares, merchandise or property on said day; to keep open or operate on Sunday for profit any mill, mine, factory, bake house, barber shop, workshop, or any such or similar place of business or occupation which is managed by or employs either skilled or unskilled labor."

A fine of from $10 to $200 and a jail term of 30 days may be imposed upon violators of the law. There are a few exemptions, but exemptions
are always easily stricken out once a law is enacted. There is absolutely no question but what this statute is an entering wedge for far more stringent Sunday legislation and other religious laws.

The law makes it the special duty of the Commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics and his deputies,
and of every magistrate, judge, district attorney, sheriff and policeman
in California to prosecute diligently and inform against any and all persons violating the act, and in case
they do not thus diligently complain against and prosecute Sunday-breakers, the law makes them criminals also, and subjects them to fine and imprisonment the same as those who labor on Sunday.

Besides closing the doors of all offices and places of business, trade or labor on the first day, the bill prohibits all operation of these establishments, and thus makes it a crime to do any work whatever on Sunday
in stores, shops, offices or business houses, even behind closed doors.

The law is both inconsistent and venomous. It permits restaurants to remain open, but closes delicatessen and grocery stores. It permits the sale of ice-cream, candy and cigars, pronouncing them daily necessities, but prohibits the manufacture of ice-cream and candy, and the sale of real food. The bill permits bath houses to remain open on Sunday,
but prohibits the opening of boat-
houses, unless by some legerdemain boat-houses can be classed with sports. So a man can get a swim on Sunday, but cannot take a boat-ride.

It is no crime to sell or deliver milk and cream, or to make butter and cheese on Sunday, but, when technically interpreted, the proposed law makes it a crime to milk the cows, provided the milking shed is considered a part of the place of business where labor is done, and unless the dairyman, when haled into court, can convince the judge that it would seriously injure his cows to go unmilked.

Sunday ice-cream selling is legiti-mate, but if a man makes or sells ice on Sunday he must go to jail. All real estate offices must be closed on Sunday, and those who oftentimes spend the first day of the week in looking over home sites or other property which they contemplate

purchasing, must forego this privilege, else they will be subject to fine and imprisonment, as abettors of a crime. There must be no more fruit packing on Sunday, nor must any canneries remain open on that day.

All messenger companies must close their doors and cease business, and if a person desires to start on a journey on Sunday he must leave trunk and luggage behind, since the transfer companies are not allowed to operate on the first day of the week.

Dealers in poultry and eggs must stop work on the venerable (?) day of the sun, the only exception being that the hens may lay on Sunday,
this privilege being accorded them
under section (h), which exempts from the working of the law any "industrial process of such a continuous nature that it cannot be stopped
without serious injury to said plant, industry or its product or property
used in such process."

This proposed law declares it is right to sell drugs on Sunday, but a crime to sell a hot water bottle;
right to sell candy, but a crime to sell fruit or vegetables; perfectly proper to run a moving picture show, but a crime to make the films; a humanitarian work to keep open a garage,
but a crime to maintain a gasoline station or automobile sales rooms.

Physicians, dentists and opticians
may give immediate relief to sickness and suffering, but are denied the privilege of keeping open their offices.

This law is the most unjust and high-handed legislation that has been proposed in California in many a day, but if the people of this state
do not voice their protest against it in no uncertain terms it will become a reality, and this fair State will be cursed with a law from which its citizens will long to be free. It is just such iniquitous laws as this which turn the tide toward anarchy.

Every citizen who is opposed to religious despotism, and who favors
the fundamental principles of liberty and justice upon which the American republic was founded should send a letter or telegram of protest at once to his or her Senator and Assemblyman against this pernicious law, and all other Sunday legislation.

XMASIDE IN FRANCE

make the cup of the boys run over. For myself the day was full and complete. Newell came to spend the week with me. It is a joy to see him. He looks so well physically and he shows that the war has not bedimmed his high ideals of life. He wears a gold chevron on his right sleeve, a wound strike for being gassed; two chevrons on his left sleeve, one year in the U. S. service in a foreign country, a green stripe bordered with gold above his top pocket on his left side, a French honor badge, for being a volunteer in the French army, this was his first six months in France. He received just before the armistice a Divisional citation for the Croix de Guerre, a French badge for unusual bravery in danger. He was on the line along which the parliamentaries came for the signing of the armistice when the war came to its close. You will agree with me that I have reason to be proud of our lad for his war record.

"The real old-fashioned American Christmas began as usual the night before. All of the 24 wards had been decorated as though the boys lived in the States. Profusion of holly and mistletoe artistically adorned the walls and ceilings of the wards. I never saw such beautiful holly, such glorious red and green as grows here. It is very abundant at that. There were several Santa Claus.' Each ward arranged its own program. There was singing and violin music in most of them. The Red Cross had provided a 'Stocking' for each patient and these were distributed. In fact, there was a pair of socks for each man. Many of the home boxes came the day before Christmas. Mine was very well behaved and put in its appearance on the morning of the glad day. Christmas Day was ushered in for the patients by the singing of Carols by a company of nurses and some corps men with myself. Down the street between the wards went the singing band. The morning was still and bright and the words of 'Joy to the World' and 'Holy Night' and 'Oh Come All Ye Faithful' brought joy and tears to many a heart. At 11 a. m. I went to the railroad station and gave a Christmas greeting to the men who were accepting of the hospitality of the Red Cross at the depot. A wonderful dinner was served to all patients, corps men, nurses and officers alike at 2:30 p. m. This is the menu:

C. C. Olives, Extension Splint Celery, Anesthetized Roast Turkey,
Abdominal Pad Dressing,
Dakin's Solution Gravy,
Green Soap Sauce,
Blanket Bread, Zinc Oxide Butter,
Compound Fractured Turnips,
Comminted Spuds,
Amangam Filling Pie,
X-Ray Cheese,
Surgical Sponge Oranges,
Cough Drop Grapes,
C. & O. Nuts,
Antiseptic Solution Coffee,
Chloroform Cigars,
Nitrous Oxide Cigarettes.

"I had the pleasure of going with the Men's Officer up into the country about 50 miles one afternoon to buy the turkeys for this dinner. He bought 1600 pounds at 80 cents a pound. Now, what do you think of that? Each man had all the turkey he could possibly eat. It was cooked to perfection.

"At 4 p. m. in the afternoon the patients who could get about went to the Red Cross Hut where they were entertained with movies and then served with cocoa and cookies, each was given a box of lemon drops, pound box, oranges, and nuts. Then at 8 p. m., the officers, nurses and corps men were entertained at the Red Cross Hut, first with movies, then with a program of music, then a Santa Claus who gave to each one present a bag containing gifts from the Red Cross, then came delicious refreshments: Sandwiches, cheese, chicken, turkey, ham, lettuce, fruits, grapes, oranges, apples, coffee or cocoa, doughnuts, dill pickles with your sandwiches. 'Taps' had been done away with for the occasion. At 12 o'clock, the Colonel called the crowd to attention and in his dignified manner and stentorian voice, said: 'Gentlemen, it is now nearly 12 o'clock, and it is growing pretty late, so there will be no reveille in the morning.' You do not need to be told that his speech was received with a thunderous applause.

"You will have to agree that our Christmas at Unit 13 was rather a full day and was rather strenuous for a hospital of soldiers, but everybody was happy.

"The weather here is warm. Roses are blossoming in some gardens though there are no leaves on the trees. Pansies are in bloom in beds out of doors. Gardens are still being planted with cabbage plants and with onions. We have had several frosts, but they do not seem to kill the grass or these vegetables. We are now passing through the rainy season. It has rained almost constantly for nearly three weeks. We have had two days with part of the day with the sun shining. We do not need much fire but have to have some.

"Our deaths at the hospital are now to a very low mark. The evacuation goes rather slowly so that none can forecast when we shall be going home.

"Our Unit has made a good name among the hospitals over here. Most of us are ready to come back home.

"My opportunity for reaching the men with religious service has been constituted educational authorities. In the time of war we had to depart from many of our traditional policies. In all our ways of living we had to be under a different sort of discipline and the American people cheerfully submitted themselves to that discipline, not only military, but governmental forces and medical forces and all of the various organizations which were carrying on the war. It was necessary and essential that we do it and those organizations have gone into the public schools and taken the greatest advantage they could to secure co-operation there and bring the children into this wonderful unity of purpose which has revived the spirit of the American nation. Never before have our people felt so close and so understood the problems of each other as they do now after this mighty determined effort that their country should take her part in this tremendous contest waged throughout the world, and it has been the pride of every American citizen that his country should stand shoulder to shoulder with those countries who earlier bore the burden.

"But we must see to it that those ideals of liberty for which this government was founded are given the opportunity of expression; that those ideals of liberty are maintained and that there is liberty of speech and liberty to worship God and liberty to choose whatever methods of healing men or women may approve and we must see that the liberty of the press and the individual is absolutely preserved, not only throughout government affairs but in school affairs.

"I have heard complaints for a long time that there are so many outside activities and influences at work in the schools that they have not time to carry on the regular work. We must remember that it is the fundamental things we want our children to learn; there are other places to learn other things and no school, no matter how well managed, can take the place of the tender relationship between parents and children. No school must ever attempt to supplant that greatest of all institutions, the home. No school must attempt to interfere or take away from the home the responsibilities which are placed upon parents to see to the moral education of their children, to see that those children get the proper ideals, for they can get them in no other place better than in the home.

"I know the plans for exploitation of the school children. I know the wonderful things which have been done and the wonderful volunteer spirit that has been shown in drive after drive, but we want to remember this, that after the volunteers have performed their work, there still remain in those organizations in many instances, highly paid organizers and highly paid secretaries and scores of persons who are being paid by those organizations who do not wish the organization to go out of business because it means the loss to them of sustenance and if you could know the vast number of plans which have been generated by the paid workers in almost every instance to be put into the public schools in the way of health training, medical work and work of that sort, you would understand something of what I mean when I say, the work of the paid professional in the public schools is not desired. It does not have that fine, courageous, independent, self-sacrificing spirit of the volunteer and I say advisedly that we want the public schools to be conducted by the educators and those who are trained for the work and understand the child. We want them to have control as they did before the war.

"Our public schools must never become a field for the exploitation of any special medical or religious theory. I know something about the various schemes that have been proposed for the control of the public schools on the part of certain medical advocates. I have seen the programs passed up to our councils of public defense as to what they desire to do with the public schools."

Mr. Stimson then told of being summoned to inspect a film prepared by certain health authorities which they wished the Board of Supervisors to approve and pay for to be shown in the public schools portraying the activities of the health authorities in running down to the source of infection cases of diphtheria, illustrating the course of the disease, etc. Concerning it, he said:

"That was to be held up before the school children of Los Angeles up to all my expectations. The Red Cross Hut will accommodate about 800 men. I have that filled every Sunday night. We have a service in the morning, but I have not been conducting it. I give my mornings to short service in as many wards as I can reach in the time. I think it quite necessary to get to the men who are bed-fast with some sort of a religious service. Many a home pastor would be glad of the congregation of men I have in the evening. "Your letters are always welcome. They cheer the day and help in keeping up my morale.

"May you all have a very Happy New Year.

"With love to all, I am as ever, county for their edification. Not long ago I saw a circular issued by the same health department directed to each teacher in the public schools. This circular instructed the teacher to place upon the wall an influenza map of the school district, a red pin to be stuck in for every house and each pupil was to be brought before the map and made to inspect it and to recite the symptoms of influenza. This they were to do that every child might aid in stamping out the disease. It seems ridiculous, but at the same time it has its serious aspect when we think of the impressionable minds of young children and of having these thoughts and pictures of disease held up before them. Every doctor tells you the effect of fear upon grown-ups. Then think of putting that before children.

"Because during the war all kinds of activities have been allowed in the schools, this sort of thing has grown up. I honor the work of the Red Cross, both the paid workers and the volunteers. But we must understand this. The Red Cross has now in its hands millions of dollars subscribed because the givers wanted it to be used for relief in war work and for no other purpose and today that money should be going to Belgium, Assyria, Armenia instead of for the program which is being planned which will call for the expenditure of millions of dollars in connection with exploitation work in the public schools. It isn't needed here and we should see that it is used where it is needed and not for the purpose of installing in the public schools certain systems of training which do not meet with the approval of the majority of the people. I say this plainly because I know whereof I speak. I have seen the program of work in the State Council of Defense and I went to the Pacific Coast Division to look the matter over there where there is a corps of highly-paid specialists ready to carry on this program of interference with children in the public schools.

"Boards of health are gradually encroaching and taking away the prerogatives of the public school teachers, boards of education, and school trustees charged with the duty of controlling and managing school affairs."

spacious hotels in every village and some of them compare very favorably with the Beverly Hills hotel. Just at present these hotels are quartering American soldiers though of course Headquarters always draw those places.

"The Rhine is quite a pretty river and it sure looks good to see all the boats flying the 'Stars and Stripes.' The marines are patrolling the Rhine in little revenue cutters and it is quite a sight to see them dashing around keeping order. I have been down the Rhine for a distance of about 50 kilometers and I will never forget the old castles and villages I saw.

On Xmas Day I went up to Cologne to see a friend with the Canadians, and Cologne is the most beautiful city I have ever seen. Went all through the cathedral and absolutely words fail when you try to describe it. I couldn't help but think of Rheims and the ruined cathedral there while this one at Cologne is still standing in all its beauty. When you get off the train in the Cologne station you can nearly imagine yourself in New York, for the station is a magnificent place. You don't see so many civilians on the street, but those you do see look very prosperous. In fact, the whole city has a prosperous air and they have never been made to feel the real effect of war like Belgium and France.

"The streets of Cologne certainly present a lively sight as the Scottish Guards (Ladies from Hell) are there in their kilts, the Irish Guards, Australians and Canadians also and they are sure a fine looking lot of soldiers.

"Have also been to Bonn which not so long ago was the winter home of the Kaiser, but they don't seem to expect him there this winter. Bonn is also the West Point of Germany as the big military university is there.

"Well, I will have a lot to tell you when I get back and it will sure be a happy day when I once more set foot in Glendale.

"Just a bit of gossip about the Glendale fellows here:

"Frank Littell is back at Base Hospital No. 36, Vittel, France, where he says he is having a wonderful time. He is sure strong for the Red Cross nurses.

"Ed Sadler and Stan Gorman are both here with me and both send best regards.

"Had a letter from Jim Gibson about a week ago and he is sitting on the world down at Bordeaux.

"Well, give my best to all the fellows and I expect to be home about July 4th.

"Sincerely,

Major Benamati. The last are counts and belong to one of the oldest and most highly honored families in Italy.

ater for the soldiers.

"The great cathedral of Milan is a wonderful structure. It is of Gothic design and has been building for centuries and is not finished yet. There are upwards of 2000 statues adorning the spires and minarets.

"Milan is the music center of the world. All of the world's greatest artists have been here. In order that a vocalist may have the prestige of an appearance in this city, they hire one of the big theaters and also hire the people to come to applaud them. The papers are then hired to write up their performance. The prestige of such an appearance secures an audience elsewhere."

In his last letter he writes that he has just been released from a hospital where he has been recuperating from the effects of an automobile accident in which he had his left arm broken. He had the best of care while in the hospital and they were very kind to him. When he asked for his bill when leaving they said they had no bill against him, but considered it an honor to be able to help him.

The accident occurred while on the way from Milano with a load of supplies for the Italian soldiers. The driver of the car lost control when he came near running into a railroad train. Instead he ran into a brick building which was near by. He was held fast between the auto and the building until the auto was moved.

It seems strange that he escaped when the shells were falling all around him then to be laid up from the effects of an auto accident. He hopes to be back to his work in ten days as his arm is doing well.

COMMISSION MARKETS

SENATOR BROWN RENEWING EFFORT TO ESTABLISH A STATE SYSTEM

Senator William E. Brown, who claims that the intent of the law for the establishment of State Commission Markets was frustrated by the State Market Director, is again urging the necessary legislation to give the state relief from soaring prices. From him the following has been received:

To the People of California:

As I am receiving urgent requests to make another effort to establish State Commission Markets, and as there is much confusion regarding the situation I am herewith briefly setting forth the facts to the end that you may intelligently make known your wishes to your representatives in the Legislature. Here are the facts:

There was passed at the 1915 session of the Legislature a State Market Act providing for a system of self-sustaining commission markets, to which farmer and producer might consign their products for sale and the consumer might come and buy, thus benefiting both classes. As long as an avenue of this kind was kept open between the producer and consumer no food trust nor combine could control.

Well known authorities and students are agreed that the high cost of living is not primarily due to lack of production, but to a system of trust-controlled markets that prevent products from coming to market. The original State Market Act provided for a simple method of allowing food products to come to market, and would also eliminate the speculator and profiteer. These benefits would be enjoyed through an institution that would soon become self-sustaining, as the moderate commission to be charged for handling produce would take care of cost of maintenance. The bill was finally passed and signed.

Then a State Market Director was appointed who was not in sympathy with the intent of the law and who immediately proceeded to nullify it. The appropriation was expended to create the very conditions that the market act sought to abolish. This mal-administration created a storm of protest and the entire matter was exposed and presented to the Legislature. The political "steam roller" worked day and night to save the Market Director.

The "steam roller" prevailed, the result being that the Director was enabled to have the original market act repealed and to substitute one of his own designing, providing for a State Market Commission, with no provision for markets, just the reverse of the original act.

In this action a grave injustice was done to the people and they were robbed of an institution which would have permitted surplus food products to come to market instead of being destroyed.

A recent nation-wide survey discloses the fact that foodstuffs have advanced 83%. A large percentage of this is directly chargeable to methods employed by food speculators and profiteers.

A properly conducted system of State Commission Markets will greatly aid in reducing the excessive living cost and the people of this State can have such markets by urging their Assemblymen and Senators to vote for the bill providing for them. This bill is known as Senate Bill No. 639.

If such assistance can be assured, I shall be glad to receive communications and to do all in my power to establish this remedy that will greatly aid in reducing the excessive living cost and the people of this State can have such markets by urging their Assemblymen and Senators to vote for the bill providing for them. This bill is known as Senate Bill No. 639.

If such assistance can be assured, I shall be glad to receive communications and to do all in my power to establish this remedy that will greatly benefit both producers and consumers.
